AGENCY'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Background

Established in 1935 as the South Carolina Industrial Commission, the South Carolina Workers' Compensation Commission strives to serve the needs and interests of employers and employees in the Palmetto State through the just administration of the South Carolina Workers' Compensation Act (the Act). Every South Carolina employer and employee, with certain notable exceptions, is presumed to be covered by the Act. Exceptions to this provision include railroad and railway express companies and employees, certain casual employees, Federal employees in South Carolina, businesses with less than four employees, agricultural employees, and certain real estate salespersons, and, by election, corporate officers. Through the Act, an employer's losses related to workplace injuries is limited to statutorily defined compensatory thresholds. In so doing, the Act establishes defined "loss parameters" that business can support while ensuring that workers in South Carolina receive quality medical treatment and compensated wages if injured in the workplace.

Employers covered by the provisions of the Act are required to maintain insurance sufficient for the payment of compensation, or they shall furnish the Commission satisfactory proof of their ability to pay the compensation in the amount and manner due an injured employee. The South Carolina Department of Insurance is responsible for approving rates and classifications for all workers' compensation insurers.

ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE

Workers' Compensation Commission has a total of 54 employees. 54 are FTEs of which 8 are unclassified; 46 are classified, and 2 Temporary.

The Commission consists of seven Commissioners appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate for terms of six years. The Governor designates one commissioner as Chair for a term of two years. The Chair may serve two terms in a six-year period, though not consecutively. The Chair is the chief executive officer of the Commission and responsible for implementing the policies established by the Commission in its capacity as the governing board. Commissioners are responsible for hearing and determining all contested cases, conducting informal conferences, approving settlements, and hearing appeals. In their quasi-judicial role, Commissioners conduct legal proceedings throughout the state.

It is the responsibility of the Commission to administer the Act, found in Title 42 of the Code of Laws of South Carolina. In accordance with the Administrative Procedures Act, the Commission also promulgates rules and regulations necessary to implement the provisions of Title 42.

Section 42-3-90 of the South Carolina Code of Law stipulates that the administration of the Commission is conducted through the activities of three divisions; Coverage and Compliance, Claims and Statistics, and Medical Services. Functionally, the Commission's administrative duties are carried out by three line departments (Judicial, Claims and Insurance and Medical Services), and two support departments (Administration and Information Services). Each department is under the supervision of a director and may be organized into one or more operational divisions.

The Administration Department is responsible for a variety of internal programs, including finance, budgeting, human resources, purchasing, inventory, facility maintenance, motor vehicles, mail and printing, office services, and affirmative action, as well as administrative operations of the Commission.

The Judicial Department is responsible for scheduling contested matters for hearing as well as scheduling informal conferences throughout the state. The department oversees the joining of issues for hearings as well as preparing the docket for Full Commission Reviews. Case preparation in anticipation for a hearing consists of reviewing pleadings, requesting additional documentation from the parties, preparing a case synopsis, and maintaining the docket for Full Commission Panel Appeals.

Administration and management of injury reports and any resulting claims are the responsibilities of the Claims Department. After an injury is reported to the Claims Department, claims personnel monitor its progress through the system. Individual case records are reviewed to ensure the requirements of the Workers' Compensation Act and the rules and regulations of the Commission are being observed. Conflicts of a non-judicial nature are often resolved in the Claims Department.

The Insurance and Medical Services Department is responsible for maintaining and monitoring workers' compensation insurance coverage records for all employers required to carry insurance under the Act, enforcing compliance with the Act, administering the workers' compensation self-insurance program, establishing payment systems and fee schedules for medical providers, and resolving disputed medical bills. The Coverage Division maintains insurance records for employers who purchase coverage from commercial insurance carriers. The responsibility for investigating uninsured employers to determine if they are subject to the workers' compensation law is the responsibility of the Compliance Division. Under certain conditions, South Carolina employers may self-insure against losses resulting from on-the-job injuries. Qualifying and regulating the self-insured employers is the responsibility of the Self-Insurance Division. The department's Medical Services Division is responsible for maintaining the fee schedule that regulates charges by doctors and hospitals and for approving various fees and charges in accordance with the established schedules.

The Information Services Department is responsible for the coordination and management of the flow of information throughout the Commission; responsible for all the data processing and information systems development and maintenance. The department also provides statistical reports and a framework for tracking data to each department. The IT staff is tasked with reviewing each area of the agency to ensure redundant systems and process are eliminated and work flow is streamline to maintain efficiency in meeting the agency's goals.

Goals of the Commission

The Commission has adopted four basic goals and implementation strategies to ensure the Mission is successfully accomplished on behalf of our stakeholders. The Commission considers stakeholders in the system to be those individuals, businesses, and other organizations participating and utilizing or otherwise involved with the system. These include, but are not limited to, employers, injured employees, insurance carriers, representatives in the legal community, and medical service providers.

The Commission's core values of competency, continuous improvement, professionalism, efficiency, employee development, stakeholder need awareness and cost effectiveness are engaged and leveraged throughout the organization in the support of this goal, to the benefit of the workers, employers and key stakeholders in the State.

To accomplish the Mission, the Commission has 4 goals:

1. Ensure statutory and regulatory requirements and agency policies and practices are implemented and applied in a fair and consistent manner to all system stakeholders.
2. Develop and propose reasonable policies and regulations to control the cost of workers' compensation in the State.
3. Interact and engage system stakeholders for feedback to improve efficiencies and effectiveness of system.
4. Adopt a continuous improvement program to enhance the effectiveness and efficiency of the Commission's business processes and procedures.

In order to pursue these goals, the Commission committed to build a culture of continuous review and improvement of policies, procedures and business practices; increased efficiency and effectiveness; and fairness and consistency. The Commission utilizes use of new Information Technology Management Systems to achieve many of the objectives that follow herein. Financial considerations and human resource capacity pose key strategic challenges to the organization as it seeks to deploy new information technology management systems. Our financial challenges mirror those of other public sector organizations; namely "how do we best leverage our limited resources to facilitate improvements for our stakeholders and those we serve"? New information technology systems allow staff to access and process data efficiently and effectively.

Internally, the strategic challenge arises with the adoption of the new processes by all segments of the business operation and the proper training of human resources to utilize the new process in the most efficient and effective manner. Deployment of the new IT initiatives is intended to reduce the fiscal burden of the workers compensation program on the business community, while continuing to provide excellent services to our customers. The organization expects to embrace and successfully address the fundamental resource challenges such deployment may generate.

Externally, the deployment of new information technology management processes will allow external business partners to interface with the Commission electronically for the submission of required data to meet legally imposed deadlines. The new electronic interface will allow business partners to be more efficient and reduce cost of operations by reducing expenditures for fines and assessments. As a substantial portion of the Commission's annual operating expenses are offset by the collection of such fines and assessments, the implementation of this information technology management system may create a strategic challenge for the Commission in future years.

While measuring the success of a regulatory agency such as ours can prove challenging, cost and efficiency comparisons of Workers' Compensation programs between other southeastern States can help gauge the performance of the South Carolina Workers' Compensation Commission. The Following data has been provided by the National Council on Compensation Insurance (NCCI), a non-profit, nationally recognized Workers' Compensation insurance resource organization.

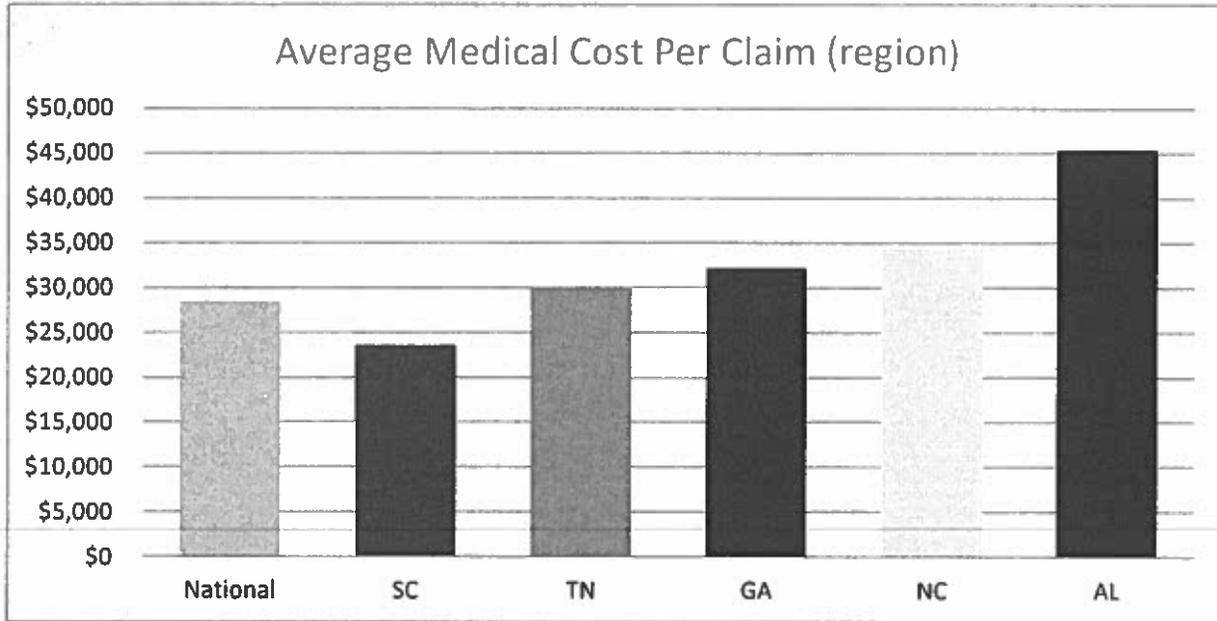

Approximately one-half of the cost all Workers' Compensation claims in South Carolina relate to medical fees and expenses. Through the Commission's use of tightly regulated fees schedules that limit compensation to medical providers, the Commission has been able to help reduce the effect of rising healthcare costs related to Workers' Compensation claims. The chart below reflects South Carolina's experience relative to other States in the region and the national average (2013 data).
